Factory Network is an ecosystem of thousands of members from more than 90 nations located in two cities – Factory Berlin Mitte and Factory Hammerbrooklyn in Hamburg.

We curate the most ambitious innovators from the tech, creative, and corporate industries. Our diverse community comes together to connect, collaborate, and thrive.

Members have access to workspace in our two locations, exclusive educational and social events, entrepreneurship and creative mentorship programs, and online and offline networking activities.

We forge partnerships with global organizations like Mastercard and Hubspot, in order to give startups access to resources that help their businesses grow.

Factory Berlin

It all began with a bold vision: to establish Germany's premier and most impactful international network of tech startups. Fueled by a passion for cultivating vibrant ecosystems, Udo Schloemer, the visionary behind Factory Berlin, realized this dream in 2014 by inaugurating a special space centered around community building.

As a location, Factory Berlin's roots are deeply entwined with the city's industrial and innovative heritage. Located on the former Berlin Wall, it serves as a lived reclaiming of a space that once split people apart and now actively unites them.

Factory Hammerbrooklyn

Launched in 2021, Factory Hammerbrooklyn is the latest manifestation of our commitment to empowering innovators. This dynamic space provides a nurturing environment for individuals, startups, corporations, and partners in Hamburg, whilst enabling them to thrive within a lovingly curated ecosystem.

Our community thrives on fresh ideas and diverse perspectives, enriching our network with new dimensions of thinking. By actively supporting innovation and fostering collaboration and exchange throughout our community, we continually challenge the status quo, paving the way for the future of tomorrow.
